CITY COUNCIL.

After the minutes of the two preceding meetings of the City Council were read and approved last night, all the Aldermen were present except Pugh, Frost, Haines, Taylor and Laidlaw.

A variety of communications were read and sent to their respective Committees. The reports of the several Committees were read and before reported.

The pay list was presented amounting to $237.75. The tender for lumber was awarded to John Lewis, and that for lumber to Laidlaw & Co.

The city question was brought up and a discussion began, when it was ruled out of order. The Aldermen followed, with Ald. Tinkler in the chair.

The clause of the Executive Committee's report, in the Finance sub, was read to the Executive Committee. The reports of the several Committees were read and before reported.

Ald. Stirling is going to aid. Dunnet explained that nearly $700 had been expended in the city, but for the purpose of aiding an independent line which was to be under the control of local men. Through the kindness of the Grand Trunk, the incidental advantages of which are mentioned by Peterborough, a town that refused to contribute to control towards the construction, but in which the Mayor is very largely interested.

It was promised by the original promoter that the workshops should be located in the city, but Mr. Richardson, getting the control, erected them in Thurston, and the present management closed them.

It was promised that the passenger station and freight depot should be located on Front street, but the short distance that freight would have to be drawn would benefit the trade of the city. The present management have resolved to transfer their city offices to the Grand Trunk station.

Favorable rates were promised for the transportation of coal wood, but that accommodation has not been given.

As a matter of fact, we are not aware that one single promise which was made in order to induce the voters to grant the bonuses of $150,000 has been carried out, beyond the mere building of the road, which, among all this, is a little or no benefit to Belleville.

More than that, the Company have insolently seized nearly the whole of Front street, between Dundas and Wharf streets, without authorization for more than a single track, and have used and do use it as a yard for shunting their engines, ready to the loss of a number of property holders.

If the ratifiers have any rights in these matters, it is high time that the Council undertook the task of asserting them.

Daily Intelligencer.

WELLVILLE, TUESDAY, JULY 10.
THE MIDLAND RAILWAY.

Belleville seemingly has no rights in the local railway which the Midland Railway authorities care to respect. The ratifiers gave $150,000 for the purpose of aiding an independent line which was to be under the control of local men. Through the kindness of the Grand Trunk, the incidental advantages of which are mentioned by Peterborough, a town that refused to contribute to control towards the construction, but in which the Mayor is very largely interested.

EDITORIAL BRIEVITIES.

Under the first railway tariff, says the Mail, the sum for which 2,013 business men failed during the first six months of 1893 was $30,929,682. During the first six months of 1892 and 1893 there were 11,108 failures, and the liabilities were $12,202,802. The failures in 1892 and 1893 were caused by the National Policy. By the same reasoning the failures in the early part of 1878 and 1879 were caused by the Cartwright tariff; so that we have no admission from the fact that while the National Policy is a failure, the failures were 1,108 and the liabilities $12,202,802, without the National Policy during the same extent of time the failures were twice as many and the liabilities about three times as much.

A cable telegram states that the English Bishops are so alarmed at the storm of criticism evoked by their opposition to the proposed Divorce Bill that they are preparing to publish a reply in justification explaining their motives. The Royal family is much vexed at the failure of the measure, which puts the intended marriage of the Princess Beatrice to her widowed brother-in-law as far off as ever, that project being said to explain the warm advice given by the bill by the Prince of Wales and his brothers.

The Ottawa correspondent of the Globe writes under date of Monday, July 10th, that it is said that several deposits of coal have recently been found in the Ottawa valley. The discovery is very important, as the coal from these deposits, if properly worked, will be a source of great benefit to the Ottawa valley. It is also said that the discovery of coal has led to the discovery of other valuable minerals in the Ottawa valley.

The above is given as it is found in the Globe. The "enterprising" correspondent has not only violated the law by laboring on Sunday, but his news is stale and his geography sadly lacking in correctness. The fact that "coal" (and other good quality) has been found in the Ottawa valley, has been found in the Ottawa valley, has been found in the Ottawa valley.

Campbellford Correspondence.

Campbellford, July 7, 1893.

Our village was visited this day about noon with one of the greatest rain storms of the season, which lasted about two hours. The streets were flooded, and in many places the crops were destroyed. The farmers are beginning to complain of the damage to their grain by these unusual storms. Our river was never seen so high at this time of the year. It has been very favorable to the lumbermen in getting down their logs, as immense numbers of which have passed here within the last two months.

Mr. Tate, the Government Surveyor, is here taking levels of the Township river from Hastings to Frankford, preparatory to the commencement of the canal in this locality.

In consequence of the increasing number of children attending the School, the Trustees have come to the determination of taking down the old stone apartment, enlarging and rebuilding the same with brick, in conformity with the already picturesque and well designed edifice.

C. Humphreys arrived here on Monday last. He has there 320 acres of some of the best land in this country. His account of the great prairie district is very interesting. Great advantages are promised to settlers in that extraordinary valley. He says the crops are very good. He is located a short distance from the celebrated "Red Farm," which contains 10,000 acres, 5,000 of which is under grain at the present time. Mr. C. returns to his far west settlement on Monday next with his wife and family, and carries the good wishes of the inhabitants of this township with him.

Railroad & Son have 150,000 logs now on the way to Toronto, the last of which will pass Campbellford to-morrow. 150,000 more are lying at Lakeside, which cannot be moved at present in consequence of the high water. Mr. T. Callahan reports that the men are all steady and doing well.

LICENSE COMMISSIONERS.

The Law Journal thus replies to the Globe's contention that the Ontario law disqualifies Mayor and Wardens as License Commissioners under the Dominion License Act:

The Ontario Act says: "No person who is a License Commissioner shall be qualified to be a member of the Council of any Municipal Corporation." The policy of the enactment is obvious. A License Commissioner running for municipal office would have in his hand a great and potent weapon of corruption, no less a potent weapon than alcohol. Here and there are said to have carried the law. Lord Beaconsfield into power, and whiskey without the Bible cannot but have its weight. The McArthur Act in no way militates against this provincial legislation. It merely provides that when once a man is established in office as a Warden of a County or Mayor of a City, he shall be a member of the Board of License Commissioners. Having under the protection of the Ontario Act, he is elected by the other sense of the municipality to the chief office in its gift, who could be more fitted to legislate in the interests of sobriety and temperance! At all events, the policy which would desire the disqualification of a man who has been elected a municipal officer from being a License Commissioner, would be entirely distinct from that which debar a License Commissioner from standing for municipal office. The Dominion Act says that a man who has obtained a certain municipal office shall be a License Commissioner. The objects of the two Acts being different, and the one not interfering with the effectuation of the object of the other, they cannot be considered as inconsistent or repugnant."

Editor's Note: We are glad and sorry to publish the above; glad that Mr. Peck repudiates "Justice," sorry that a mistake as to the authorship of "Justice's" letter, which was signed by almost every one who read it, should have caused an unduly prolonged to an old friend who, we were led to believe, had made coarse and unwarranted personal attacks on members of the Intelligencer staff. We therefore with all our reflections cast upon Mr. Peck, but if "Justice" will disclose his personality we may have a word or two to spare for a man who was mean enough to allow another to be censured for his contemptible effusion and to attack the Intelligencer from the suspicion erroneously cast on him.

Correspondence.

While correspondents will be accepted upon the condition that their letters on subjects of general interest, it must be in all cases understood that the letters are accepted on a strictly non-exclusive basis.

To the Editor of the Intelligencer.

Sir, in your issue of the 9th inst., a correspondent stating himself "O'Brien," has written a letter to cast a reflection upon my humanity, by conveying the idea that I sent children of some years of age into the streets to be all day, which is not true. The little fellows in question were in with their own free will, and worked a part of the day. I know they were there. Furthermore, they were taken out several times during the day, and went back with their own will, and when they came they played as heartily as any children, which I can prove. Now, Sir, the care I take of my children and the affection I show toward them, and my humanity, will I think compare favorably with "O'Brien," or any other person that would try to cast a personal reflection in that shape, and not be mean enough to insert my own name to it.

Yours, &c., E. N. GORDON.

Plainfield, July 10, 1893.

The Ferry Question.

To the Editor of the Intelligencer.

Sir, I observed in your editorial article of the 7th inst. headed, "The Ferry, a Peck of Dirt," and on reading it through I was satisfied it was intended especially for myself, and was evidently based on your own newspaper clipping that I had published the article, and "Justice" in the Ontario.

Now, Sir, I do not wish to be kind for the moment. I have not the space to publish the article to which you refer, and the only evidence I have of such an article is from the quotations in your reply thereto, and I content that your assertions cast upon me were neither dictated by reason nor good taste and were wholly unavailing, and I trust, Sir, that you will be as ready to correct your own mistakes as you were to mine. My transactions with the editorial staff of the Intelligencer have uniformly been courteous and pleasant, while I can't say the same of the Disfranchisement of past years, and your choice language toward me is a very poor reward for past favors and patronage under my record for a period of 11 or 12 years, which was always given to the Intelligencer, and I am sure from home prevented an earlier reply.

Yours, &c., J. H. PECK.

FLEET FOOTED FLYERS.

Hannaford fourth and Foster last. Time 2.04.

In the second assay, the competitors stood off and general applause. Hannaford, led by the front, closely pressed by Littlefoot for a time, but the former kept clear of his pursuers until the race was reached beyond the quarter pole.

There the little fellow, whose borrowed machine was in anything but good shape, was rattled into a mule box, fell back and was overtaken by West. The wheelmen, attracted into the home stretch under general excitement, and West passed under the first, Hannaford second, Littlefoot third, the others away off. Time, 1.52.

The Judges deemed it necessary to send Hannaford and Littlefoot off to turn the course for second money, and a very pretty start was made. The little fellow, who by the way is only 12 years old, took the lead, maintained it throughout, and won easily in 2.01. The distance was one circuit of the track—a half mile.

JUMBO'S DAY.

At one time a great many dogs were owned in this city. Now there is only one left, for this number is all that is recorded on the City Treasurer's book.

It was noticed on Saturday that many who are invariably late for Sunday service were waiting their way to the vicinity of the station as early as half past six in the evening.

Mr. W. J. Diamond has been advised that the sentence of Alex. McDonald has been commuted and an order for his release from Central Prison has been forwarded to the Warden.

This body of Charles Kestling, who was drowned on the Montmorency on the 3rd inst near the Stone Mills, was recovered and brought here yesterday by the Hero. The remains were interred in the afternoon.

On Saturday, Daniel Keating, who was following the great show, came here. He was spotted by one of the circus detectives and arrested. Today he was presented to the Police Magistrate and no one appearing to prosecute, he was discharged.

GEORGE THOMAS had a good trade on Saturday afternoon at his stock of goods before night. He had his dog guard his premises and when the dog became hungry yesterday afternoon, he cleared through a front window of the shop.

When the train for Madison was on Saturday evening, a woman tried to get aboard at Bridge street. She did not possess strength enough to hold on to the hand rail and was thrown under the side of the car very close to the rail. Her escape was almost miraculous.

HARTEN'S MAGAZINE for August is unsurpassed for the variety and interest of its matter and for the beauty of its illustrations. There are many articles in the August number which will read with interest by Canadians; such as the "Canadian Habitant," "The British Yoke," "The Heart of the Algonquian," and the editorial contributions at the close.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.—Toronto, July 16.—Lakes light to moderate wind, mostly a south and east, generally fair warm weather.

BURGLARS, BURGLARS.

On Saturday morning two burglaries were committed in this city, and one in Sidney.

The first reported was that by James A. Vandervoort. He lives on Dundas Street, near the eastern limit of the city. His house was entered and a plain gold ring, one with an emerald setting (gold), a gold band ring, (diamond), a gold necklace, and a gold locket and cross taken away. The thieves also helped themselves to the contents of the safe.

Mr. S. T. Wilcox, of Sidney, has been called to attend to his business, and is unable to appear in court. He is charged with the theft of a gold watch which was stolen from his house on Saturday night.

A horse was driven away from the House on Saturday without the permission of the owner, who became greatly excited over his loss. His recovery has not yet been reported.

Michael Walsh visited the city on Saturday to see the elephants, 29, on "29." He slept on a couch at the Ontario House and when he arose on Sunday morning two silver watches had disappeared from his vest—two days—$800 worth.

A man who visited the circus ground alleges that his watch chain was out and his watchmaker abstracted from his pocket.

Several light losses have also been reported.

JUMBO'S DAY.

The universal verdict of those who visited the exhibition of the Barham and London Show on Saturday, was, that, without exception, it is the best in the world. The performances are of the highest standard of excellence, the facts presented in the arena are generally new, and of the highest order of merit and are not duplicated elsewhere. The variety of the acts is new, novel and thrilling, and of the highest order of merit and are not duplicated elsewhere. The Danger of Over-Exertion.

A STRAIGHT MAN BECOMES WEAKER THAN A

WILD MAN WHO NEVER TAKES HIS

REST.

(Written by N. Y. Observer.)

In these days of racing games and athletic events the physical development of the average man is becoming more and more of physical power a few days since in the person of Dr. A. W. McNamee, of Waterloo,

Ontario, we saw a man whose physical development was such that he was able to write a letter to his wife in the arms of his wife, and found it wholly impossible. A revelation of what is manly by an iron man was fully made manifest.

"Have you always been so stalwart as this?" inquired the news gatherer.

"Not by any means," was the reply.

"When a young man I was always strong and active and felt that I could accomplish anything. This feeling led to possession of me on one occasion that I attempted to lift a box which four men found it impossible to move. I succeeded in placing it on the ground, but in two minutes from that time I was unable to move or remain on my feet, and was obliged to be carried to my home, and when I recovered consciousness I found a large quantity of blood. From that day I begin to grow weak and finally, I believed that I had incurred some internal injury and performed a general abstinence, which seemed similar to the effects produced by malaria.

After a few days I had no appetite, and at times looked food. My lips were parched and cracked. My head felt as though it were entirely open at the top and it pained me on the inside. In six weeks' time

I had fallen away from 200 pounds to less than 170. I was in a most wretched condition.

I was completely discouraged."

"What did you do about it?"

"Almost everything. I consulted no less than six different physicians. They all treated me and none did me any good. At that time

I was suffering from a cold, and at night I was obliged to rest in a cramped unpleasant position. I was compelled to arise every five minutes and I passed over three quarters every day. I was not living, I was existing."

"One night (how well I remember it!) my wife had put the children all in bed when the feeling came over me that I should live but for a very short time. My wife and I talked all over and gave the immediate direction as to what should be done after I was gone. I was not in a slightly condition by any means for the doctor, but he had been the day following, had no good by, saying he never expected to see me again, for I was suffering with Bright's disease of the kidneys in its stage. Within the next day I had passed two or three times, and I had no good by.

Among the number was Dr. John L. Clark.

He asked me what I had used in the way of medicine. I told him. He then recommended a remedy of which I had heard much, and about which I was very skeptical. It failed was an element of power, but was lacking

in my case."

"Did you not try it?"

"On the contrary, I did try it

EVERY one will have birthdays. Mr. Greenleaf, of Montreal, is at the Opera House, not by year, but by recognition of birthday by friends become less frequent. It was therefore with more ordinary pleasure that on entering a new laboratory, which he had completed on the anniversary of his birthday, he found that the anniversary was remembered by his daughters at home and absent, by carpeting and furnishing his laboratory. Such kind acts tend to unite family ties.

The North Hastings Review says: "A few weeks ago Mr. T. E. A Saturday Evening Incident.

The excursion party of the Alexandria on Saturday night was entertained by a love scene which had been on the bill, would have, if possible, added to the number present, which looked, with long eyes, at the loving couple, who, oblivious to the outer world, sat in the most conspicuous part of the boat, where, with cheek to cheek, they repeated phrases that "old old story" had been so often rehearsed in parlors, on piazzas, and in summer houses, and in the most comfortable place, which may bring to the memory of the gentle reader, a certain particular location, best of all, which, for your sake, we hope, was not the deck of a steamer, with the eyes of an excursion party watching the scene.

The Lacrosse Match.

The Kingston News gives a very full account of the lacrosse match, which concludes as follows: "During the match the play was of the following nature: The Maple Leafs were very good. Robinson, T. HALL, Field, and Walker. For the Oka's Barrett, Overall, Beasley, Gerrard and Dow did some beautiful playing.

The Oka's were dressed in a neat suit of blue, with a red hat; while the Maple Leafs were in white jerseys and grey pants.

During the match no rough play was made by either side, although a little game was seen over some of the players' heads. This is the third time the Oka's have been beaten since they organized about four years ago; once before by a Kingston team and again by Colborne. The Belleville boys feel assured that when they meet the Maple Leafs on their own little grass plot they will be able to beat them as badly as they have been beaten.

The members of the Oka Club were entertained at supper at the Windsor Hotel by the Maple Leafs during the evening. The Oka's left with memories of pleasant associations.

The Kingston News gives a very full account of the lacrosse match, which concludes as follows: "During the match the play was of the following nature: The Maple Leafs were very good. Robinson, T. HALL, Field, and Walker. For the Oka's Barrett, Overall, Beasley, Gerrard and Dow did some beautiful playing.

The Oka's were dressed in a neat suit of blue, with a red hat; while the Maple Leafs were in white jerseys and grey pants.

During the match no rough play was made by either side, although a little game was seen over some of the players' heads. This is the third time the Oka's have been beaten since they organized about four years ago; once before by a Kingston team and again by Colborne. The Belleville boys feel assured that when they meet the Maple Leafs on their own little grass plot they will be able to beat them as badly as they have been beaten.

The members of the Oka Club were entertained at supper at the Windsor Hotel by the Maple Leafs during the evening. The Oka's left with memories of pleasant associations.

The Hop Market.

New York, July 19th.—There has been a little more life in trade the past week. The dealers found comparatively little in the way of business, however, and buyers have been almost exclusively the buyers. In tone, the market is probably a shade better than it was at this time last week, but as no substantial business is still among the prominent characteristics of the market. Some dealers begin to talk as though they believe that hard pan has been reached, but others would leave it to be inferred that they consider hope dear at 20c. In face of present indications as to supply and demand, one dealer inclined to believe that the market will be 20c. before it is 20c. What these ideas amount to, beyond the wish being father to the thought, remains to be seen. For the present, 20c. can hardly be put down as too high for very fresh goods, and 30c. all the ordinary run of stock will realize. Sales have been made very recently at these figures, and at a low price, but others would leave it to be inferred that they consider hope dear at 20c. "THAT IMPORTANT CUSTOMS"

CHARGE.

The Globe is not satisfied with the friction which we have to meet the alleged change in the Customs law which

—with the aid of a Yankee journalist—professed to have discovered. But, thoroughly beaten in argument and strategy by the exposure of its malice and ignorance of the subject which it rashly attempted to discuss it makes, in its issue of the 25th inst., a bold attempt to score a point against us by a deliberate resort to falsehood. It says:

Minister of Customs Bovey seems to have lost his head altogether. The Globe has congratulated him on ignorance of the

A PROJECTED ENTERPRISE.

If a sufficient amount of stock—say $100,000, (but less might be raised here, it is probable a new company which will manufacture the "Star Hammer Portable Threading Engine," will be established in this city. A plan for the property of Mr. H. A. Abley, in the possession of a gentleman with whom Mr. A. is in correspondence, and who is now in the west endeavoring to work up the enterprise. These plans have been shown to a manufacturing firm, who were favorably impressed with them—though they considered the premises rather small for the purpose intended. The writer says: "If you can find more men and means, and are willing to go ahead, we can build up a very large business and a profitable one." The writer further says: "If you can get your men together let me know and I will let you know the way we can be to meet you. Please arrange as soon as possible and state the subscribed amount and have your best men present and secure in power." It is to be hoped this matter will be taken in hand energetically and the desired achieved.

Workingman's Temperance Association.

President—Bro. Henry Pringle.
Vice—Do. "D. Urquhart.
Secy—Do. "M. M. M.
Treasurer—Do. "W. W. W.
Auditor—Do. "W. W. W.
The Association will have another of those very enjoyable open meetings in their hall on Tuesday evening, July 10th, instead of the 3rd, as previously announced in these columns, at which all are invited to be present.

River Notes.

The water at the mouth of the Maita is nearly as high now as it was in the spring when the river broke up.

Such was the pressure against the boat last night, that a portion of it, near the gap, gave way. A temporary boom was swung across the log this morning and the requisite repairs made.

The log are piled in every conceivable shape, and come down faster than they are put through the gap.

During the week ending June 16th, 47, 137 logs were passed through a gap; last week the number was 40,000.

Sidney Conservative Association.

An enthusiastic meeting of the Conservative of Sidney was held in the rooms of the West Hastings Association on Saturday, the 10th, for the purpose of forming a Township Association for Sidney.

Mr. Clement Armstrong, having been called to the chair, explained the object of the meeting in a few well chosen remarks, after which the members were asked to sign the petition, all cordially approving of such an Association. The meeting having decided to form an Association, proceeded to elect its officers, when the following gentlemen were selected:

Morden Bird, President.
Henry Fenn, Vice President.
J. A. Chalmers, Secretary.
Adrian Reid, Treasurer.

It was decided to hold the next meeting in the Town Hall, Sidney, at an early date, after which the meeting adjourned.

The spirit displayed at this meeting was an index of the feelings of the people of Sidney, the Association stands under most favorable auspices. Every Conservative in the Township of Sidney should endeavor to attend the next meeting called for Friday evening, the 29th of June, at the Town Hall by the advertisement in another column.

The importance of an Association for the Township can hardly be over estimated, and each Conservative should feel that it is his special duty to be present. With the officers who were last Saturday elected, the Association cannot fail to be successful, but still they should be supported by every friend of home government and British connection.

FLIGHTY HORSES.

On Saturday afternoon, Mrs. T. C. Wallbridge's team ran away on Bridge Street. The horses, which are spirited, became frightened and their driver was unable to control them. When near the corner of West Bridge Street, where the carriage was thrown out into the road and was injured about the head and shoulders. The carriage is now residing at the residence of Mr. Wallbridge, who was subsequently stopped without hurting himself.

On Sunday afternoon, the same team was taken out by two men, and when on West Bridge Street, the neck yoke broke, the pole fell and the horses went off again, but were subsequently stopped without hurting themselves.

Yesterday morning two men of Mr. John Johnston, School Inspector for South Hastings, went out for a drive. When passing the grey camp, on the road leading northwards, east of the institution for the Deaf and Dumb, the horse ran away. The fellow who handled the reins showed quick nerve, for he guided the animal for a time with coolness and precision. When near the Agricultural Grounds, however, the horse jumped from the buggy, and the vehicle striking a stone, he was killed. Mr. George Gibson happened to be near and went to the rescue of the lad and took him from under the buggy. The boy had a narrow escape; the carriage was injured, and the horse—a valuable one—lost about the legs.

"OMETA."

This is the name of the steam yacht recently purchased by a party of Belleville gentlemen. She arrived here last night and to-day was an object of attraction for many. She is 37 ft. long, 13 ft. wide, 11 ft. high, beam, and is driven by a 15 horse power engine. She has a neat model; her lines are fine and she has a clean run. She is a handsome craft and presents a "snappy" appearance. Her cabin, which is 14 ft. long, is handsomely fitted and provided with the necessary adjuncts as are needed. The wheel-house is neat and spacious and is well provided. The windows, which are curtained, slide aside and are so framed that the motion of the boat does not move them. The owner of the "Ometa" is to be congratulated on the possession of such a fine craft.

Ireland.

Dublin is full of American tourists. A large boat, containing about 500 dynamite cartridges, has been dug up at a field at Inishbeg, about three miles from Cork. The dynamite was in good condition and was of a quality superior to that manufactured by Whinham at Dublin.

Since the troubles began the Duke of Abercorn, who used to be only an occasional resident in Ireland, has lived most of the year there. His seat, Barons Court, is in County Tyrone, so immense manor that will accommodate thirty guests with bedrooms. The estate includes about 100,000 acres.

Mr. James N. Richardson, M.P. replying to the question of the Irish Church Temporalities, Committee reading near Newry, who forwarded him a petition for presentation to the Premier, seeking forth their grievances and asking for the Amendment of the Land Act this session. The Irish farmers, he adds, cannot expect the Government to advance money for purchasing farms unless they be represented by a body of representatives.

Archbishop Crooke recently visited Fethard, county Tipperary. A large crowd met him at the station at Fethard, and he was subsequently presented with an address from the priests and people of Fethard. They spoke of his Grace as the friend of the poor, the enemy of crime, the terror of the tyrant, the pride of the Irish race. His Grace, in reply, said he had no very good reason for coming to Fethard, but he would address, or if he did, not to reply to them. He would therefore say they understood him and he understood them, and that he hoped they would be united together in the future. The people then knelt down on the road, and his Grace blessed them.

Caught in a Gale on the Bay of Quinte.

WHEN AT MARRAMORA.

The Bay of Quinte, ordinarily so calm and peaceful and inviting, in its danger moments very quickly became a thing of terror to those who seek pleasure in its waters. Such was the experience of the writer on Saturday afternoon last.

Desiring to have a swim, and not feeling a companion, I hired a boat at Tudor's and proceeded alone to the classic spot known as Cow Island. Perhaps also observed the big black dog in the water, for when I stepped a shore, he was choosing a pair of claws, and he should give me a light, graceful pair, he said quietly, "I guess you had better take these today," putting into the boat at the same time a pair of as homely ears as he possesses, and adding significantly, "for you can't break them."

As subsequent events proved it was probably owing to the dog's getting in my way that I am now in a position to write this for the INTELLIGENCER.

I rowed quietly down the harbor and out into the bay, and shaping my course for the former island, was pleasantly surprised to find a dip and swim in the cool water, when, glancing towards the west, I realized that a small boat was directly behind me. I had power to the east, I had got within about 150 yards of the east end of the island when I saw a ripple on the water coming from the direction of the new black, ominous cloud. Believing that no wind or sea could prevent me from gaining a spot as close at hand as I desired, I pulled the boat forward and elements, to pull for the shore, but the turn of the wind and the extraordinary rapidly increasing sea proved to me that I was no longer master of the situation. To continue the course I saw was to get the boat into the trough of the sea, which, of course meant capsize, and having had a previous experience of capsize from a yacht, near the same place with Captain P. P. I made up my mind that if possible I would avoid such a contingency. Before I had quite made up my mind, however, regarding the course I should pursue, the wind and sea took the possibility of choosing from me, as they very unceremoniously gave me to understand that I had no alternative but to proceed to Massena Point. If my nerve, courage and strength could stand the test, I would make it to me. To the boat, I saw that the wind must put me to. Bowing to the inevitable, I saw that the wind must put me to. Bowing to the inevitable, I saw that the wind must put me to.
